I don't think I'll find the love I want
The love I'm searching for in this machine

The systems failed, all the circuits blown
And the message lost in this machine
Tried all the codes, all possibilities, all combinations
but still nothing

Called for backup from my assistants but
No one seems to know anything
Disconnect, shut the main reactor down
And separate from this technology

I tried, you know I tried, I tried
Hard as it may be I know you should be with me
Even though it seems it's all lies
I still believe you should be with me

I don't think I'll find the love I want
The love I'm searching for in this machine

I tried, you know I tried, I tried
Hard as it may be I know you should be with me
Even though it seems it's all lies
I still believe you should be with me

I tried, you know I tried, I tried
Hard as it may be I know you should be with me
Even though it seems it's all lies
I still believe you should be with me
Even though it seems it's all lies
I still believe you should be with me
