Well you ask, how long I'll love you
It's hard to explain, but I'll try
Tell me, how long has the sun been shining
Above us in the sky?

Till the last day of forever
If I have it my way we'll stay together

Till all the rivers run dry, I'll be loving you
Till the mountains have crumbled, I'll always be true
And if for any reason you say goodbye
Ask me how long would I cry
Till all the rivers run dry
Till all the rivers run dry

Now the path that we're walking
May be rough and rocky sometimes
But we'll believe in one another
Whatever we find

And when you need a hand to guide you
I will be there walkin' beside you

Till all the rivers run dry, I'll be loving you
Till the mountains have crumbled, I'll always be true
And if for any reason you say goodbye
Ask me how long would I cry
Till all the rivers run dry
Till all the rivers run dry

Till all the rivers run dry, I'll be loving you
Till the mountains have crumbled, I'll always be true
And if for any reason you say goodbye
Ask me how long would I cry
Till all the rivers run dry
Till all the rivers run dry
