I put you into flight today,
As I put you into sleep,
Everything changed, Everything changed,
Orange skies as I wake,
You've become a victim, A victim of hate,
A victim of hate.

And the sky came falling today,
And the sky came falling today,
And the sky came falling today,
It took you away.

And the sky came falling today,
And the sky came falling today,
And the sky came falling today,
It took you away.

If the Sun burned out,
If the sky burned out,
And the water runs dry,
Would you believe in you, you and I?
If we stumble over the edge,
And this circle never ends,
Would you believe in you, you and I?

How can beauty survive?
How can beauty survive?
