

Requiem "Dagger"

Shades in the night
Colors of the light
In the tapestries of her soul
Eyes open wide
A child of endless light
As she dreams of tomorrow

Fire and ice
Sinners and saints
Are marching together
Under the spell
The legacy of hell
Poison in the paradise

In the beginning the portrait has no color
It's clean as the snow on distant mountain tops
The seasons are changing the unborn child is waking
The scales of reality will be rearranged

Dagger is falling again...

Now shades in the night
Took over the light
And the tapestries darkening
Eyes closed so tight
A child of endless lies
Her dreams finally dying

And fire and ice
Sinners and saints

Are marching together
Under the spell
The legacy of hell
Poisoned the paradise

In the beginning the portrait has no color
It's clean as the snow on distant mountain tops
The seasons are changing the unborn child is waking
The scales of reality will be rearranged

Dagger is falling again - On and on cutting the hope
There's no reason to live the endless fight
Shadows are rising again over the paradise
Endless treasons clouding the shining eyes

Solo - Arto

Solo - Teemu

Dagger is falling again - On and on cutting the hope
There's no reason to live the endless fight
Shadows arc rising again over the paradise
Endless treasons clouding the shining eyes
