oh my life oh my heart they were not lover(they were just acting) they need a lot of time to be lovers they want to do bad things for you my heart and you you are full of good things(he is talking to his heart) and people now dont deserve a good person like me this is the time we are in and this is life now you want to hurt me and u already did days will show you what u lost and u will regret hurting me because u will not meet any other like me my heart always loved u but u never appreciated that u promised and u went and forgot everything i didnt imagine thaat u are so weak ohh my heart forget they are not lovers and they will not be we are used to absence from the one i love my heart handled all of this and loved u unconditionally my heart doesnt know hatred my heart always was good but u were never lovers
