God never really did like man anyway
At least not after they started walking around
On their hind leg(s)
And talking on the telephone
Of course poor God's point of view wasn't easy now (to) understand
He had invented man from dead things
At that time there were no grave yards to rob
So He had been forced to use dead worms, some sea weed
That had laid out on the beach for quite a while
For quite a while.
At that time man had four legs and no telephone
A major mistake came when God decided that man should think
(A trait that He'd long desired for Himself)
What God no doubt intended was
For man to think about Him
And that was important because God just wanted to be
Just another normal deity
Deity Deity Ty Ty Ty Ty Ty
All that God wanted to be
Was just a normal deity
All that God wanted to be
Was just another normal deity
All that God wanted to be
Was just a deity
Just a normal deity
All that God wanted to be
Just a normal deity
All that God wanted to be
Just a normal deity
All went well for quite a while
Man was a wonderful creature
With long rich engraved face
Four fine legs ending in five mini-legs
And a coat of satiney hair
And large genitals
His thoughts were pure and
Full of wonder
The wonder part was God's favorite,

(at least at first)
Because that's the part that gave Him
His Identity Identity Identity Identity
Oh, it was so wonderful for God
Man's... Man's questions turned to visions
And visions gave God
All kinds of exciting things to do
Someday He would be a God of wrath
Reeking havoc upon undiscipline mankind
And at other times He'd be a God of love and compassion
Of course these were all things that man had invented
So God had a hard time getting the full grasp
But...
One of His favorite things
Was man's believing in Him, and then not believing in
Him
Was man's believing in Him, and then not believing in
Him
Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
...Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Believing in Him, Not believing in Him
.....Like some hide and seek game
.....Over
.....And
.....And
.....Over and Over
.....Believing in Him
.....Believing in Him
.....Believing in Him
...Not believing in Him...
Not believing in Him?
I think He liked believing in Him much better...
But I'm not sure...
