Please, please, oh please
Won't you help me?
Please help me
Won't you help me?
There's something that I need

I once made friends
With an other
A brother and a rudder
A lover of my needs

We found the beauty
Of darkness, apartness
And the heartless
Arabesque of need

I know nothing
Is ever lying or crying
Or denying
If its needs are pleased

Please, please, oh please
Let me help you, I'll help you
Can I help you?
I know just what you need
