i can't imagine how you feel and this is how you feel you say your name like your no longer convinced but now they're strapping you in and closing the lid and they're dropping you in what's done you did the bell's picking up speed there's water leaking in that ol' equilibrium just starts to spin and spin do you like to be judged or liked do you like it inside a barrel plunging over the falls curious and grim we wrestle at the rim we wonder all about him and the point of it all i'll be short and brief and to the point the fighting has resumed in that tone of voice the plague is exhumed he said "what i'm going through is essentially all true made no less amazing by the fact that it's see-through" you like to be judged or liked and you like it inside a barrel plunging over the falls strong and green and dim it wrestled him like nuthin out out out and into the thrill of em all and the real wonder of the world is that we don't jump too
