i need your confidence need to know you're mine when it gets right down to the killing time i know you're heart is bad but it's all i've ever had we can live our lives on this righteous crime i got kicked when i was down and a sailor took my girl to town then she licked my wounds with the sea dog's salt i drank half a bottle of jack swore i'd never take you back by the bottle's end i was on that phone what you call compromise i don't understand what you call compromise i don't understand how do you walk away how do you walk away how do you walk away from a woman that gone and done you wrong?
