You did the best that you could do.
You were a great crew,
who tried to nurture and preserve your
faith in you.
And with the bureau chiefs
and the shrugging spies
You could stay, but why.

You see a light and then another and everything you fought for naught's uncovered.
You're not a fighter, you're a lover.
You got no business in here, brother so... stay.
Stay.

Is it the worst that you could do?
You were a great you,
who tried to nurture and preserve your
faith in you
and with the bureau chiefs
and the shrugging spies
you could stay and why.
Cause you see a light and then another.
Everything you thought you sought's uncovered.
You're a fighter and a lover and there's no one up above her so ...stay.
Stay.

All things being balanced, it's balanced and called balancing somewhere beyond everything it's being balanced not for the sake of balance but balancing between the throes of learning and the entire thing entirely balancing.
