As I was driving far away from home
My car just stopped and I was alone
Where's a gas station?
Don't know my location
But then a car was heading straight my way
And the driver picked me up
Then from the ashes into the fire
This dark angel put a gun to my head
He said give me one,
One good reason not to blow you away
Blow you away
I wanna jump out and then start to run
It's not that easy when a loaded gun
Pointing at my head now,
What's it gonna be now?
What's the point in giving me a ride?
He was hiding from the law and
I came from the ashes into the fire
This dark angel put a gun to my head
He said give me one,
One good reason not to blow you away
Blow you away
