"Blades Of Steel"

Shower the world with disease and let loose with your cruellest guns
Cut nations down by their knees! Enemies fall one by one
When the smoke and fire clear, and rain washes the blood away
In a wasteland beyond compare, only two madmen remain

Pre-Chorus:

Say a prayer, no one will listen to you!
We stand alone in silence and solitude
Say a prayer, no one will listen to you!
We stand alone and here's what we're gonna do:

Chorus:

Blades of steel rain from above with deadly aim, so straight and true
If you think you can run, you'd better think again... that's right! I'm comin' for you! (2x)

How many more fools will try to take everything for themselves?
How many more fools will die by my hand, sent straight to hell!
Hundreds, maybe thousands more! I carry the burden of time:
An infinitely heavy load that ravages and plagues my mind
