Resistance will only get you so far
Because most only understand
The primal, original rule of law:
Aggression with weapons in willing hands

That's fuckin' fine with me
Because that's my way
It has been since I can remember
And it's been working well to this day
Never bothered with discussions of peace
And never tried diplomacy
Because they never end in surrender
Or submission at the very least

Let the killings begin! First comes first!
It's the only solution for the very worst
Enough time has passed, now I know who I am
If I tried I could barely remember when
I was lost in a quest for identity
Never sure what I was meant to be
In the darkest depths I gave up hope
But found my purpose at the end of my rope

You may not understand
If you've never been there before
You wouldn't believe the clarity you've got
When you're damn near dead on the floor

Everything is in focus
And petty cares disappear
The only thing left is the will to live
To hell and back without fear
The path to revenge may be long and winding
Or in my case: short and to the point
I prefer the latter every time
I'm gonna level this fucking joint

Let the killings begin! First comes first!
It's the only solution for the very worst
Enough time has passed, now I know who I am
If I tried I could barely remember when

I was lost in a quest for identity
Never sure what I was meant to be
In the darkest depths I gave up hope
But found my purpose at the end of my rope
