"Slip Of Tongue"

So here it is my friend
An invitation to this monologue of contradiction
This display of emotions
Makes you hunger for more

Disposed of reason
Listen to every word that will be spilled
Some strange addiction
Sold for a moment of blind attention

Cast a shadow of empty phrases
Without mercy
Exposure of pain, until all is dark
Swallowed by slip of tongue

A fall from grace
Once placed on a pedestal now thrown away
All words denied
But whispered softly, whispered softly

Cast a shadow of empty phrases
Without mercy
Exposure of pain, until all is dark
Swallowed by slip of tongue
