The silent horde comes creeping through the night Shuns the lights and cameras staying out of sight
We've been warned
There's no one else to blame Take your medicine before they take your brain

I can't believe there's no one listening

Talking heads explain the latest new reform You won't get much to say until you've been reborn

Look at the eyes there's something missing

Don't you think it strange how they only change the name Where's the open door
Well it's on the thirteenth floor
I know you've heard it all before

Big Brothers watching us
with eyes in the sky
I think I've had enough of asking why

I know they're still watching us
No where to hide
It's time to turn and fight for your life

All the time you spent hiding in the dark Take your poison pen and stab it in their heart

That may arouse a slight suspicion

Don't you think it's weird
'til they passify your fears Change the right to wrong and we follow right along The bouncing ball will lead us on

Big Brothers watching us
with eyes in the sky
I think I've had enough of asking why
I know they're still watching us
No where to hide
It's time to turn and fight for your life
