Space baby, you got no planet Space baby, you got no planet Got no home to give a name No air to breathe, but just the same I dig my atmosphere machine Space baby, you been so far Unknown face on an unknown star The time is now my life's begun I'm burnin' green like a rhomboid sun I've never seen a flower grow It's a mystery to me just how my being came to be and why it came here Maybe I'm not even human but I know there's lots of room infinity There's got to be a time and place for me to cease this endless search and settle down with my own race and never, ever, ever be a Space Baby
