I've known a lot of funny people
The ones that make us laugh
I've known a lot of lonely people
Calling from the past
And in my darkest hour
I find the place where I fit in Somewhere between the heavens
And the devil's weary grin
I always will be haunted by the ones I've loved
Yes I always will be haunted by the ones I've loved
In my eyes

I've known a lot lovely people
Though they never spoke to me
I've known a lot lovely people
And they never meant a thing
So bring on the piper or the jester's lonely heart
For even the happy man gets lonely in the dark
I plan to be high beneath the sea
So don't hold your breath-just breath

We are the ones that make you laugh
Forget about your troubles
Live in peace, pain and regret
And forget all your troubles
We are the ones that make you love
When you have no one at all
Yes we are the ones that make you laugh
Yes we are the ones
