Shall I prove myself that I'm getting better
Who wants it so scarce when History is over ?
Who believed in me ? Who believed in you ?
Just Because You Lied, Just Because You Lied.
With a shot-burnt face in the teething summer
Full whole weeks in the shed with four more in a chamber.
Who believed in me ? Who believed in you ?
Just Because You Lied, Just Because You Lied.

What's after shame for a tiny tin soldier ?
Who looks in the shade when the sordid is over ?
Who believed in me ? Who believed in you ?
Just Because You Lied, Just Because You Lied.
That's all that they said when I took it over.
For where would I leave the shame, would I take it further ?
Who believed in me ? Who believed in you ?
Just Because You Lied, Just Because You Lied.

So without further ado, with some body colder
Why should I live in a cage with so many left bones asunder ?
Who believed in me ? Who believed in you ?
Just Because You Lied, Just Because You Lied.

Who believed in me ? Who believed in you ?
Just Because You Lied, Just Because You Lied.
