There's someone in heaven to talk with today
Someone who knows just the right thing to say
You lived a full life, you fought the good fight
There's someone in heaven to talk with tonight

He'll look the same but then so will you
Just as you did when your marriage was new
You'll roll over laughing bout a silly old fight
There's someone in heaven to talk with tonight

You've got someone in heaven to talk with today
Someone who knows just the right thing to say
So walk up the stairs to his bright shining light
There's someone in heaven to talk with tonight

You used to hold hands and ride round the park
Stop by the school yard where maybe you'd spark
So take up the lyre sing us a song
We'll be there someday and we'll sing along

You've got someone in heaven to talk with today
Someone who knows just the right thing to say
So walk up the stairs to his bright shining light
There's someone in heaven to talk with tonight
