As the lights go down I think of you,
Your smiles all that I think of, I'm s in my mind,
I wanna see it once again,
I wanna be there all the time,
And when you think your falling through,

I will always be right here, to save you,
I will always try to help you when you need somebody,
I will always be the one to catch you when you fall,
I will always be here right beside you,
I will always love you,

The way you look me in the eyes,
I never wanna look away,
I wanna feel this all the time,
And that I think of, I'm s something I can't usually say,
And when you think your falling through,

I will always be right here, to save you,
I will always try to help you when you need somebody,
I will always be the one to catch you when you fall,
I will always be here right beside you,
I will always love you,
I will always try to help you when you need somebody,
I will always be the one to catch you when you fall,
I will always be here right beside you,
I will always love you
