Hey baby girl with your face so red you've got every reason to be misinterpreted,
Like airplanes in the night sky taken for shooting stars, but don't make your wish yet,
I can't find why I'm addicted to you, but we have everything and nothing to lose.
And I wish that I could spend every night with you, but in less then two weeks you'll be back off to school.

And you know I'd walk a thousand miles for you,
Barefoot and bleeding these scars are not healing,
You can help this feeling; I need you to hear me.

Where did these days go by,
Lost inside these summer nights,
I can't believe this is happening so fast,
Woah, Woah, Woah, Woah,

What are you thinking now,
So far gone and can't be found,
And I can't believe this is happening so fast,
Woah, Woah, Woah, Woah.

Do you remember those nights on the beach where the moon shied it's eyes and we could not speak,
Like the words we're taken right off our lips by a subtle but sexy kiss and skipped heartbeat,
And do you know what I'd do, to have you just once more,
And do you know what I'd give, to have you forever.

And you know I'd walk a thousand miles for you,
Barefoot and bleeding these scars are not healing,
You can help this feeling; I need you to hear me.

Where did these days go by,
Lost inside these summer nights,
I can't believe this is happening so fast,
Woah, Woah, Woah, Woah,

What are you thinking now,

So far gone and can't be found,
And I can't believe this is happening so fast,
Woah, Woah, Woah, Woah.

Where did these days go by,
(By, by, by, by)
Where did these days go by,
(By, by, by, by)

Where did these days go by,
Lost inside these summer nights,
I can't believe this is happening so fast,
Woah, Woah, Woah, Woah,

What are you thinking now,
So far gone and can't be found,
And I can't believe this is happening so fast,
Woah, Woah, Woah, Woah.
