... There she goes, there she goes. My little bee
Home is a memory fading away

Smiling today to live tomorrow
Through all the trees,
The queen used to keep her
Feeling disgraced

Between stings and kisses
It was hard to find the truth
But all she ever does...
With all the pain she gets lost

Lost,
Come, little bee
Make yourself home
Sleep in these tepid sheets
You'll lie down all day
Zunzum in my ears
Just when you thought
That you were down for tears

Yet, she smells the sweetest flowers
Not so concessive, playing her day

Between stings and kisses
I'll hold her; she'll feel safe
But all she ever does...
With all the love she gets lost

Lost,
Come, little bee
Make yourself home
Sleep in these tepid sheets
You'll lie down all day
Zunzum in my ears
Just when you thought
That you were down for tears
