Birth, death, Love or hate (3x)

[Chorus]

their touch?

IV to your soul, You lose control if they walk out the door

Emotional war you know that it hurts like heart through
a sword

But no matter what happens, gotta let 'em go

[Verse1] - Rewind

Fell once fall twice I might just lose my life

Heart batting at the plate and it's boutta strike

No where to go no aint no bases aint no home

Going back looking forth empire says that I'm wrong

When you lose someone you love, your love is lost

They say you gotta pay for happiness but what's the cost

Purchased ha smile shouldve bought a casket what happened is to tragic wanna make it poof like magic

Perfect family picture where was the flash

Shadows covered your face now your all up in my past

Stuck wit out a future, went to fortune teller

What I tell her, what I ask, why you left, why you packed

Made excuses this and that

You seemed so right

Plenty fishes in the sea you were my only type

If I was bait you shouldve ate now I'm on a date wit the sharks and they gon be eating out my heart

[Chorus]

their touch?

IV to your soul, You lose control if they walk out the
door

Emotional war you know that it hurts like heart through
a sword

But no matter what happens, gotta let 'em go (x2)

[Verse 2] - Rewind

Had it on my finger tips it fell off my hand

Falling sinking in, quick hand

Where's the forks I need a lift, gotta shit

Butter fingers got no grib

Like America together we stand For my soul, you were the only band Kept my blood bumping on a beat now it's breaking peak
I'm outta tone, playing witta stone
You were the bass, guitar, the strings all these things Together we played so good now it's understood
It can never be fixed, never be better
You were always cheesing, now it's time to let go, good bye my Cinderella
[Chorus]
their touch?
IV to your soul, You lose control if they walk out the
door
Emotional war you know that it hurts like heart through
a sword
But no matter what happens, gotta let 'em go (X2)
Yea yea gotta let 'em go
Yea yea gotta let 'em go
Yea yea gotta let 'em go
Gotta let 'em go
Gotta let 'em go
[Verse 3] - iSick
Watch 'em grow up (gotta let 'em go)
Taught 'em everything you know (gotta let 'em go)
Listen to her first cry (gotta let 'em go)
First crush, first love (gotta let 'em go)
Tears drop when you saw her walk (gotta let 'em go)
Cry a river when she wanna run (gotta let 'em go) Walk her down the aisle, turn around she's so grown Roselin my child your the queen of my throne Promises a broken trust (gotta let 'em go)
Violated by a broken heart (gotta let 'em go)
Thin line between love and hate (gotta let 'em go)
If it happens once most likely happen again (gotta let 'em go)
Land slide, everything going down hill (gotta let 'em go)
Threat disrespect, consumed by fear (gotta let 'em go) Violated mama's words that destroy your soul now your consequence is far too kind to try and let 'em go We all go through a moment in our life, where we have to face decision, a decision to hold on and let go, a decision for some becomes a easy task but for others as myself it becomes a difficult quest Birth, death, love, or hate, there will always be a decision to make
