we never trusted any light we'll look a little better in the sky everything is written as a lullaby searching for the way out

we never tasted any air we'll live a little better in the sun looking for the metro heading for the world searching for the way

we've been dreaming under,
low dreaming under, low running to somewhere like a carnival we'll never know we'll never know we'll never know the ending we never know.

we've been dreaming under,
we never know. the end

looking for the metro heading for the world

we've been dreaming under,

we never know.

we've been dreaming under,
we never know.

Submitter's comments:Â

i was a bit shocked at the english of this song!! it's really good but i like the acoustical better than the original..lol
