Run

Tears they reign beneath the skyline
Blood runs from the veins of the clouds
God realms the sky search for someone to smight
But that fucking god can't see me

Lets go bitch

The black rose burnt into the ground
The blood dried on the tip of my fingers
Burning through my flesh cutting through bone
Like razors they shred
Blood begins to cry your name in my ear
Why did I let you go
I loved you and I let you slip away

I should have never let you go
You were my one and only
You were the reason my heart beat every day
Now you are the reason I cry every day

Come back to me
I will kill for you
The reason the knife is to my throat is so you can see
That my love has brought me much pain
I will rise above
I begin to go insane
Within these thin walls
