"River Man"

Met this man down by the river side
And he took me for a walk in my mind
He showed me a path I could find
From the valley to the mountain side

And he said
Where I go I don't know
But when I go that's on my time

Know this man who believes love stays still
And he loves to sit and watch
As his family tree grow and bloom
His words rain down on me
And he is who I strive to be

And he said
Know when you're wrong
Know when you're right
Know when everything is gonna be alright

Yesterday is now gone
But tomorrow is not yet here
And today is the day that we all can change
And today is the day that I will change
