I'll close my eyes
I'll fall asleep
It's time for us
To meet again

I used to have, a house of glass
And one day, found it broken
It had a garden, but had no flowers
Only one, and it was stolen.

On and on I kept searching for answers
Is there something that I did wrong?
Every night I swear to God I can see it
Then the sun comes up and it's gone

You, so restless
You told me
You had to fly away, away
You, made me promise
Not to shed a tear
To put a smile on my face
For I know you are near
For I know you are... close to me

You live inside,
My heart and dreams
You gloom at nights
When they can't see

It's better now, that we can talk
The pain is softer than before
I see you fading, and I can stand it
I know you're waving and it's goodbye...
