So he's holding me in his arms
And he's giving me sweet little kisses
And he's telling me he'll never harm me
And he's whispered how wonderful this is
And I tell him that I love him
And I tell him I'll be true
And I've said these things to other boys
But right now the old words feel so new

And I ask him
How did I get so lucky
I didn't even have to try
I don't know he says
I'm nothing special
I'm just some guy

And he's smiling like he means it
And he's stretched out on his back
And he's telling me now that he loves me
For the fifth or the sixth time, I can't keep track
And I watch his eyes as they shine
Rub my fingers through his hair
And I touch his chest where his heart is
And I tell him I find safe haven there

And I ask him
How did you get to be
So sweet and so kind
I don't know he says
I'm nothing special
I'm just some guy

And I say
Your heart is so big
And your mind's so alive
You have passion and freedom and vision and drive
You have so much to give and you give it with care
You have helped me to heal and there's nowhere I won't go with you

And he's holding me now even tighter

And he's breathing me in
And he's telling me now that he loves me
And he's tracing his fingertips over his skin
And I'm happier now than I've ever been
And I'm hoping this feeling won't die
And if he says he's just some guy
That's fine
The truth is he's mine

My sweetheart, my love
Sent down from the sky
So very much more
Than just some guy
