"Born To Die"

I was living, wish I was living your life
I know I was born right into your zone
We were together, forever
Because of the system we were not to change
Set me free, while me you what I love
Once I was thinking
I was thinking of you
If you'd be able to think
What would you do?
You would be satisfied
Talking bout weather
That's the only topic you could choose
That's not fair to do the things you do

Why? We have to die?
Are you a killer, or just lost your thought eye
Why? We born to die
Believing there's a reason
And we'll survive

Just by a touch, by a physical touch
A thousand speeches were sent to the space
The heat just a little... you are killing me on...
Think think twice before you're back disgrace

Why? We have to die?
Are you a killer, or just lost your thought eye
Why? We born to die
Believing there's a reason
And we'll survive x 4
