Well it was January not the fourth of July
A snow white morning and a clear blue sky
We were miles from nowhere but somehow or other love found us

We were laughing and looking in each other's hearts
Talking and touching trying so hard
Not to notice what was going on all around us

But there were fireworks flashing, thunder clapping
Big waves crashing on the shore
There were church bells ringing and Angels singing
All gathered around Heaven's door

Then we kissed and I saw the light
I could go on about this all night
Hey darling, if you don't wanna hear how the waters
parted
Then don't get me started

No don't get me started I'm warning you Unless you've got an extra week or two
You know darn well how I get when you get me going

No, don't get me talking about us
About the day we fell in love
Unless you're longing for a dose of strong emotions

'Cause there were fireworks flashing, thunder clapping
Big waves crashing on the shore
There were church bells ringing and Angels singing
All gathered around Heaven's door

Then we kissed and I saw the light
I could go on about this all night
Hey darling, if you don't wanna hear how the waters
parted
Then don't get me started

Then we kissed and I saw the light
I could go on about this all night
Hey darling, if you don't wanna hear how the waters

parted
Then don't get me started
Don't get me started, don't get me started
