You never know thirty minutes ago
That we were at each other's throats
Like a couple of kids, who don't care who they hurt

My heart hid in your cold stare
They'd never get us anywhere
But for the final word we know where to turn

As here in this house love rules
It's never a doubt, love rules
It's in command, it lays down the law
Without pointin' fingers or findin' fault

And words start to fly, love talks
When emotions run high, love sees all
And brings us back together
Like nothin' else could ever do, love rules

I can't promise, and you can't swear
We'll always be the perfect pair
But feelings like ours, they don't just come and go

When tears dry and hands touch
Eye stalls and walls break up
And a kiss tells us all, we need to know

Here in this house, love rules
It's never a doubt, love rules
It's in command, it lays down the law
Without pointin' fingers or findin' fault

And words start to fly, love talks
When emotions run high, love sees all
And brings us back together
Like nothin' else could ever do, love rules

When words start to fly, love talks
When emotions run high, then love sees all
And brings us back together
Like nothin' else could ever do, love rules, love rules
