Susie said she'd seen you
And you were doing fine
Then Bill butted in and changed
The subject for the umpteenth time
Julie walked up and said hello
Then pretended she didn't know
But I could tell when the
Tears welled up in her eyes
Somebody knew but they weren't saying
All of my friends would just look away and Change the subject when the subject came to you
They'd act like they knew nothin'
But I knew they were hidin' somethin'
Somebody knew you'd found somebody new
Johnny said last he'd heard
You were movin' away
Well I think he knew where to
But he wouldn't say
Molly walked up said
There's a new girl in town
Would it be okay if she brought her around
That answered what I'd been wonderin' about all day
