I'll set the words up so they tear right at your soul

Don't take me too long

But there's a danger that I'll plagiarize something old

My fingers kill me as I play my guitar

'Cause I've been chewing down at my nails

My hairline ain't exactly superstar

But there's one thing that never fails

This never fails

I write the same old song with a few new lines

And everybody wants to cheer it

I write the same old song you heard a good few times

Admit you really want to hear it

Whenever I see you

You always treat me like I'm some kind of perfect man

Just 'cause I please you

You explain, but you don't think I can understand

My head is spinning as I scrawl with my pen

'Cause I've been pouring vodka in my soul

Nothing really ever changes my friend

New lamps for old

New lamps for old

We sing the same old song, just like a vintage car
You can look but you won't ever drive it
We drink the same old wine from a brand new jar
We get hung over, but we always survive it
Turn on the radio
Love is proclaimed
Again and again and again
Join in and sing
Now, don't be ashamed
Let it rain, let it rain, let it rain
Let it rain, let it rain, let it rain
Let it rain
Let it rain
We hum the same old lines to a different crowd
And everybody wants to cheer it
We run on endless time to reach a higher cloud
But we never ever seem to get near it
We sing the same old song
Who New Song
