Twenty Five Dollars - wasted on you
Got you out of trouble - but you'll soon
Come by
For another try You're a friend of mine - and I know
Only crooked places - you can go
Your eyes
Conveyed too many lies

You'd better run and hide
Too many girls have cried
Oh no no no no why
Do I feel sorry
You'd better run and hide
Too many dreams have died
Oh no no no no why
Do I still worry

Twenty five Dollars - I payed the bill
And they let you go - but you are still
Not free
I guess you won't ever be

Captured in a mess - night and day
All the streets you walk - they lead astray
You deal
With all the pain you feel

You'd better run and hide
Too many girls have cried
Oh no no no no why
Do I feel sorry
You'd better run and hide
Too many dreams have died
Oh no no no no why
Do I still worry

Twenty five reasons - to leave you
But I'm still feeling - kinda blue
Inside
Watching our worlds collide

Baby gotta see you - as you are
Wipe the rest of yearning - out of my heart
And try
To say that last goodbye

You'd better run and hide
Too many girls have cried
Oh no no no no why
Do I feel sorry
Too many dreams have died
Oh no no no no why
Do I still worry
