Think back to the life you have lived
You see yourself in another face
You seek an answer to your life
What is this nightmare inside myself?
Tracing the memories from your dreams
Why have these changes occurred in me?
There is a burning question I seek
I realize now something is not right

Set me free
Let me live
I'm not afraid
To face my fears
Release me, forgive me
I'm learning to live all over again

Reaching back into my life
Grabbing at a memory
Help me to find what's in myself
In this maze of confusion
Please help me in this other life
To find my cure to make it right
No one believes in my memory
No one feels the pain I live

Set me free
Let me live
I'm not afraid
To face my fears
Release me, forgive me
I'm learning to live all over again

Show me the way to go home
To the horrors inside of me
I fear just what I might find
I won't let this be the end of me
I travel back to face my demons
To undo what damage I have done
To end the pain my life has caused
I pray to God for his help
To show me how to live again

Set me free
Let me live
I'm not afraid
To face my fears
Release me, forgive me
I'm learning to live all over again
Again
