Existence
A spark in the mind
So full of resistance
Lasting in the face of omnipresence
Ever falling the conversation
To the others' imagination
In order to survive

Is it really me?
Or is it really you I see?
Reflections unclear

Is it really me?
Or is it really you I see?
Reflections unclear

And in the face of a crisis
Reality met halfway
Hiding behind all the faces
Closely the same
The self is no longer the name
Time to kill the fire
And destroy the cold flame

Is it really me?
Or is it really you I see?
Reflections unclear

Is it really me?
Or is it really you I see?
Reflections unclear

Mission wax away corrosion
With words that cut through to the bone
In the midst of confrontation
The truth is known
Man cannot serve two masters
