I know this old road
I've seen this lonesome valley
Ah, sweet is the memory
Acacia in her hair
Gentle and kind, she walked there.

I know that old hill
I've seen it on this journey
Ah, sweet is the memory
The tower clock turned back time
Or is it all in my mind.

I know this old road
I've seen it there before me
Ah, sweet is the memory
A wooden carriage we'd ride
Mother was there at my side

I know that cloud there
I've seen that sky before me
Ah, sweet is the memory
May trees in summer hang down
Out of a dream, my hometown
