

Greg Irwin

"When Summer Comes"

Visit "When Summer Comes" on MotoLyrics.com

When summer comes I remember how it feels
Standing there in Oze, far, far away
The gentle shadows, the pleasures they reveal
As the fog is lifting, how I long to stay
That was long ago but our dreams last forever
Never ever will I stop remembering that perfect day
Flowers in bloom turned to colors of the sun
I'll remember always, when summer comes

When summer comes I remember it again
Standing near the water, gazing at the sky
Off on a journey and so much younger then
How the flowers blossomed, then, so did I
Deep within my heart, I will cling to that moment
Still I close my eyes just to realize that perfect day
The sweet scent of summer, a new dream has begun
I'll remember always, when summer comes

Submitter's comments:Â

This is an English version of a Japanese lyrical song.

Visit Greg Irwin page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.