There you are... standing.
You look all alone... he's there.
I'm beside myself... thinking, that
He is not and I am there.

And here I go again
You know that I am not the only one
Who's been hurt and when
I think that I have finally found someone...

[Chorus]

You put me to sleep at night
While you lay all alone
Clenching your pillow tight
Thinking of what went wrong
Wish I could tell you how
You could have so much more
First thing that comes to mind
You've got your hand on an open door

Not too long and I was too
Feeling gone, not feeling you
Now here I stand and I can see
No blood stained walls 'tween you and me

And there I go again
I know that I am not the only one
Who's been hurt and when
I think that I have finally found someone...

[Chorus]

I put her to sleep at night
While I lay all alone
Gripping my pillow tight
Thinking of what went wrong
If only she'd show me how

I could have so much more
First thing that comes to mind
You've got your hand on an open door

Now that we've come this far
Can't hold back, it's what I'm feeling
Who knew it could be so hard
To say...

[Chorus]

You put me to sleep at night
While you lay all alone
I put her to sleep at night
While I lay all alone
Holding our pillows tight
Thinking of what went wrong
There's a saying that comes to mind
You've got your hand on an open door
