"End Of Ages"

Time has come for mankind - There is no turning back
From this path of destruction - From this fatal strife
Nuclear waters flowing - Whilst the animals die
Like a poison ivy - It will never retract
See the mountains burning - With luminous fire
See world returning - To what it once was
See the skies are turning black as night
We will never see the light of day again
At the end of ages - I will be here waiting for you
At the end of ages - I will be holding hands with you
At the end of ages - Don't cry for we'll pass on
At the end of ages - For only you I long
Staring lone in the yander - Viewing a flaming dawn
Can you see the clouds of fate - Rising high in storms
I greet this saviour - I curse the past
As the rain starts falling - And the winds blow strong
See the mountains burning - With luminous fire
See world returning - To what it once was
See the skies are turning black as night
We will never see the light of day again
At the end of ages - I will be here waiting for you
At the end of ages - I will be holding hands with you
At the end of ages - Don't cry for we'll pass on
At the end of ages - For only you I long
