Well, it's not easy
But I have to admit
That you're talking too much
About stuff I don't give a shit
I think I might like you
But you are way too loud
Big mouth, big words
No action, no results

Guess it's not good to be naughty and rude
But hey is it right to be always polite?

I like you more when you're not speaking
I even love you when you're not here

I think I know you better
Than you know yourself
Cause it's not that hard
To guess what you're about to say
Keep your mouth shut
When you have got nothing to say
Silence is golden
Silence is the way

Guess it's not good to be naughty and rude
But hey is it right to be always polite?

I like you more when you're not speaking
I even love you when you're not here
