You were not here when the lights came crashing down
You showed no fear, you were nowhere to be found
Now I'm hurting just like I did before
Now I'm hurting and no one knows it more

I know it will seem almost neverending
I know it will seem almost neverending, to you

You were not here when the lights came crashing down
You showed no fear, you were nowhere to be found
Now I'm hurting just like I did before
Now I'm hurting and no one feels it more

I know it will seem almost neverending
I know it will seem almost neverending, to you

All the things that you keep inside
All the fears that you try to hide
Come back to you
And all the dreams that you've ever had
All come back just to tell you that
You can be healed, you can be healed too

Now I'm hurting just like I did before
Now I'm hurting and no one knows it more

I know it will seem almost neverending
I know it will seem almost neverending, to you
