Everyone's dressed in their masquerade clothes
Tryin' to look just that little bid bold
Looking for someone, they need someone

I like to come down here sometimes
It's a real good place to hide
Looking for someone, I need someone

Ah and I don't wanna go outside
Some people like to hurt you just for being alive
They try to confuse you then if they can't use ya
They just give you a real hard time

Hey Rosie, keep your red dress on Everyone's wondering what's goin' on
Here we are dreaming our lives away
Across in the Rose Wine Cafe

Crazy babes playin' tricks with my mind
I had something to say but forgot my lines
Looking for someone, we need someone

All of you drifters get lost on the streets
You're so full of ideas but they're obsolete
Looking for someone, you need someone
