Turn away from me
I'm awful just to see
Run away from the person looking back
Tonight will be the last

Take a pocket full of pills
With a glass of chilling pain
It's all over now

I'll scream until the darkness hears me
The moon won't answer to my cries
I'll run until the fear defeats me
I'm not strong enough to save my own life
Again

Look away from me
You'll see what I really am
A useless nothing
That seems to think she can

Take one last look
At the things you'll leave behind
Now leave like you were born to do

I'll scream until the darkness hears me
The moon won't answer to my cries
I'll run until the fear defeats me
I'm not strong enough to save my own life
Again
