"Break The Silence"

Every word has a meaning
Every hand holds a heart
I learned that the night you tore me apart

Every kiss holds poison
Every truth holds it's lies
The sound of every silence, each face, it's own disguise

You broke my heart
You tore it out
I didn't drag you here
You got to hell all by yourself
I won't surrender
Won't raise the white flag just yet
How you did this with no shame
I'll never understand

I will not bend, I will not break
I will not try to understand the alibi of your wicked
games
I will not bow, I will not silence myself
The voices of the broken will be raised

Every key unlocks something
Each road leads somewhere else
Every angel learns to fly, and I caught the one that fell

Every smile feels so evil
Darkness lives inside your mind
The devil played his games with you
And you got lost inside

You stole my light
You put it out
And now, I'm no one
Another picture on your shelf
I won't surrender
Won't stay broken in the cold
I can never take away
The darkness in your soul

I will not bend, I will not break
I will not try to understand the alibi of your wicked
games
I will not bow, I will not silence myself
The voices of the broken will be raised

I will not bend, I will not break
I will not try to understand the alibi of your wicked
games
I will not bow, I will not silence myself
The voices of the broken will be raised
