You think you know me
I don't even know myself
You tried to help me
To get yourself out

Of the mess you caused
The promises you broke
The rules you bent
The lies you spoke

The pain will fade
One day I'll be on the way to being okay
The tears will dry
I won't have to hear your voice to fall asleep at night
And I will come out standing strong
I'll do what it takes to prove my heart wrong

You think you broke me
You saved me from my mind
They say you never loved me
What we had is impossible to find

Now that I am set
In stone in the past
I'll watch the time
Slowly moving fast
