I guess it's just one more step away
The freedom I've been waiting all these years to taste

When will I finally be strong enough
To let you see what I think about me

Cutting through everything I know so well Swearing I'm not stopping this time, not until I'm

Free to feel the wind beneath my wings
High above where there's no ground beneath my feet
I wanna fly, be every crashing wave you see
I wanna be strong

I guess it's just one more price to pay
It's my own fault, the lies I tell, the empty promises I make

Throwing my last stone into the wishing well
But I won't dare to dream, no, not until I'm

Free to feel the wind beneath my wings
High above where there's no ground beneath my feet
I wanna fly, be every crashing wave you see
I wanna be strong
I wanna be strong
