Congratulations
you've won the match and taken home the prize shattered pieces scattered randomly the remnant of your lies now make him beg get on his knees make him beg because it's your game his only crime to answer for:

responding to advances from all your selfish indifference hard falls the naive victim to your scheming plan you know how to play the game

self esteem rejuvenated he's been subjugated oh you know i hate it when you flaunt with those lying eyes
make him beg cuz it's your game

I hope I never
I hope we never
