Tie up loose ends
Darling baby's heart is broken
As the road bends
Look at all you are becoming
Stretch your calling
Way beyond where distance finds you
What is calling
Now must take you to the harbour

I trouble all the time
But in lines
I stand up to be strong
And I meet you
In the green
And in the blue
And in the wanting to belong

All of us do really love you
You are surrounded
You can come out now
It is time to be unburdened
Stretch your calling
Way beyond where distance takes you
What is calling
Now must take you to the harbour

I trouble all the time
But in lines
I stand up to be strong
And I meet you
In the green
And in the blue
And in the wanting to belong
