

Jac Harper

"Prisoner For You"

Visit "Prisoner For You" on MotoLyrics.com

I look at you and feel alive somehow,
Whenever you walk by I smile,
I think there's something to discover here,
But you won't give it a chance,
(I love you)

I look at you and want to be with you,
But you just never know I care,
I think we could be good together,
But you won't make ammends,

Oh baby I thought we could be together at last,
But you went and threw it away,
When you looked my way there was something there,
But you wouldn't even try,
Oh baby I thought we could be together at last,
But you went and threw it away,
When you looked my way there was something there,
But you wouldn't even try,

You played with love and lost the game,
You'll Â Never have it again,
You played with me lost in the blaze,
Only covered my eyes,
You hounded me wouldn't let me go,
But somehow I escaped,
You held me thighter each and every day,
But now I'm free to go

Oh baby I thought we could be together at last,
But you went and threw it away,
When you looked my way there was something there,
But you wouldn't even try,
Oh baby I thought we could be together at last,
But you went and threw it away,
When you looked my way there was something there,
But you wouldn't even try.
(Try, try, try)

